"MIDGETS" ARE TO STICK

SHIVELY SAYS THE AFFAIRS OF THE CLUB ARE NOW IN FAIR SHAPE.

HE'S EAGER TO HAVE TEAM REMAIN

Arch B. Diggins, After Some Tall Hustling, Reports Half of the Additional Stock Sold—May Sell Good Pitcher.

Springfield, Mo., June 27.—Springfield's baseball club is not in hopeless financial straits, according to Dr. D. M. Shively, president of the Western association, who arrived here for the purpose of keeping the team in this city. A little vim and push, believes the president of the league, will keep the team here.

"I find that the financial condition is not nearly so bad as I had supposed," said the president. "In fact, it is not bad at all. A little vim and push on the part of the citizens will keep the team here. Two of the players have been paid up until July, and there is no player but has had a part of his salary."

"I do not wish the team to leave Springfield for several reasons. One of these is that it gives the league a bad reputation. Another one is that this city has 40,000 people, being one of the largest in the league. A team could be made to pay good money here."

"Another thing that makes the prospects brighter is that I have a chance to sell one of the players here for a fair price and to keep him here until the end of the season."

"I have received two long distance calls since I arrived relative to the franchise. Both Iola and Coffeyville, Kan., asked me how much it would cost to get the franchise. I said that about $2,500 would swing the deal."

"I have no fears for the future of the team; it will find a town, but Springfield is one of the old towns in the league, and I want the team to remain here."

A. B. Diggins, who was with Dr. Shively, said that about $800 or $1,000 of the $2,000 stock to be sold had been taken up, some of it conditionally that the entire amount be raised. He said that he was not certain that $2,000 would be needed to keep the team here.

"Dick" Kaufman, the premium twirler of the Western association, probably is scheduled to appear with the Boston Americans next season. A scout for that aggregation will be here today and watch "Dick" in action. If he plays up to form an offer will be made the local club.

The management of the team probably will ask $1,200 for Kaufman, and the stipulation that he be allowed to play the season out with Springfield. Springfield will feel Kaufman's loss, provided he goes. He has come to be acknowledged as one of, if not the best pitcher in the Western association. Handicapped at times by poor support, he has been one of the most persistent winners in the team.

A WARM ELECTION WAGER

The Loser Must Parade the Streets in Winter Attire.

Covington, Ky., June 27.—Within the next few days Covington will witness the spectacle of one of its prominent citizens parading the streets for three successive days, clad in heavy fur coat, fur cap, ear muffs and other winter clothing to match.

Whether C. P. Boals, a prominent attorney, of J. L. Gardner, an insurance man, will furnish the spectacle is to be decided by today's primary election.

THE RIFLES TO GIVE SHAM BATTLE

It Will Take Place in Ream's Park at the Ridge—Basket Dinner at Otterville—Special Train for Lincoln Crowd.

The Green Ridge local camp of the Modern Woodmen of America, assisted by the band and citizens generally, is making all necessary arrangements for an old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration in Ream's park in that place, and a royal good time is promised all who attend.

Major Sam W. James and Capt. W. A. Collins will go down with the Rifles and give a military display and sham battle. All the county candidates will attend and there will be no lack of speeches. Trains leave the Katy depot at 8:35 and 9:10 and the return trip can be made at 8:30.

Otterville will celebrate in Homan's park, and all necessary arrangements are being made for a big day.

It will be a basket picnic, and all are requested to bring well filled baskets.

The Otterville Silver Cornet band will furnish music throughout the day and evening.

A parade will be had in the forenoon, and at night a fine display of fireworks will be given. Prominent speakers will entertain the crowd during the day.

People from Sedalia who wish to attend can find a train on the Missouri Pacific at 10:30.

Lincoln, thirty miles south, on the Warsaw branch, is making arrangements for a celebration of large magnitude. Many prominent speakers will be present and entertain the large crowd, and amusements of all kinds will be provided to interest all.

Music will be furnished by the Cole Camp band, one of the best in Central Missouri. A special train will leave Sedalia at 5 o'clock p. m. and deliver passengers in the Lincoln park at 6 o'clock; and, returning, will leave Lincoln at 11 o'clock.

You have your choice of three big celebrations, all in opposite directions, and you cannot make a mistake. Go to one and have a good time.

TO RID THE CITY OF RATS

RODENT PEST IN ST. LOUIS.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASE TO KILL 'EM

Experiment Made Shows That the Odor Coming from "Patient" Attracts
Other Rodents and Death
Finally Comes to All.

St. Louis, June 27.—The assistant health commissioner, Mr. Winn, announced last night that Monday he will begin a crusade which he expects will exterminate rats in St. Louis. He has discovered a new virus which he believes will eradicate the pest.

Rats from several parts of the city will be inoculated with the virus, and if his theory works, he says, within a few months the rodents will be unknown in the city.

The plan which Dr. Winn will try is to inoculate several live rats with the virus, in a similar manner that a person is vaccinated.

He will scratch a leg of the rodent and inject the serum. The virus will cause the rodent to become very sick and get a high fever. The fever will cause him to seek fresh air and thus prevent him from dying in his hole. The disease which is produced by the serum is highly contagious to rats.

The experiments the physician made show that the odor coming from a "patient" attracts other rodents and they in turn become affected with the malady. The rat dies, however, practically without pain, so far as anybody save a fellow rat can tell.

THE FLAG STORY A MYTH

BETSY ROSS HAS JOINED BARBARA FRITCHIE AND WILLIAM TELL.

THE PRETTY TALE WAS WELL TOLD

Report to Committee Arranging for Founders' Week Says Legend Is a Fake and the Historians Generally Agree.

Philadelphia, June 27.—The story of Betsy Ross, glorified for having designed and made first flag of our country, has been officially stamped a fake.

The famous Flag House, at 239 Arch street, which was bought by popular subscription, will be ignored in the Founders' day celebration in October.

This is the result of a report made by William J. Campbell to the historical sites committee, organized to mark places of historic interest in the city.

"There was never the slightest excuse for the Betsy Ross fake," said Mr. Campbell. "It is to the everlasting disgrace of America that the fiction has been nursed for so many years."

"The only foundation whatever for the yarn was that there was a young woman named Betsy Ross who took in plain sewing and who lived in a house at 239 Arch street."

The ruthless hand of the iconoclast, which is constantly robbing the nations of their favorite legends, the same which discovered that Nero didn't fiddle Rome into ashes, disclosed that Marie Antoinette was not told "daughter of a hundred kings ascend to heaven," when she stood before the guillotine; robbed Barbara Fritchie and absorbed William Tell, has just hit the Betsy Ross legend a hard blow. Americans, being largely sentimentalists, will accept the verdict grudgingly, yet the authorities are mainly with the iconoclasts.

The Encyclopaedia Americana, a work of accepted reliability, for instance, makes absolutely no mention of Betsy Ross. It says, in addition, that the paintings of the "Birth of the Flag" are anachronisms, and that the first "Old Glory" to be used in battle was raised over Fort Stanwix, in Western New York, after the desperate battle of Oriskany, where the German farmers defeated the English and the Indians in one of the decisive battles of the contest, and where old General Herkimer, many times wounded, directed the operations of his handful of men from an old tree stump.

Paul Jones asserted that he was the first to fly an American flag, but his was probably of the rattlesnake design, with the legend "Don't Tread on Me."

For a number of years students generally have doubted the Betsy Ross story, but the sentimental public has not before been shocked by the iconoclast's coming into the open with his disclosures.

In the meantime, the friends of the legend have been doing honor to the Philadelphia seamstress. A famous painting represents Washington, Morris and Ross viewing the first flag, and the old story of how Mrs. Ross suggested the red bars on the end and the five-pointed stars for the blue field is generally accepted. Historians, however, say that the flag was designed by the Continental congress, where the five-pointed star was adopted because it differed from the six-pointed English star. In fact, the story of how Mrs. Ross folded a square piece of paper and cut out a five-pointed star from it by one clip of the scissors was the first to be assailed. In order to cut the five-pointed star with a single cut of the scissors the paper must be oblong and requires intricate folding.

CARROLL FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Editor of The Ruralist Sedalia, Solicits Nomination on Democratic Ticket.

On the urgent solicitation of prominent farmers, stockmen, business and professional men, M. V. Carroll editor of The Ruralist, Sedalia, filed his declaration under the new primary law as a candidate for Representative of Pettis county in the General Assembly on the Democratic ticket, to be voted on August 4.

Mr. Carroll (whose picture is presented herewith) is a native of Ohio and has resided in Missouri for 27 years. He is 48 years old, in the prime of vigorous manhood and, prior to 1890 when he engaged in newspaper work, had devoted his time to farming and teaching school. He is not a stranger to legislative work, having served as Chief Clerk of the Missouri State Labor Bureau throughout Gov. Stephens' administration during which he drafted and secured the enactment of many of the laws under which that bureau now operates. He is the author of the bill creating the office of State Dairy Commissioner and to his efforts in a large measure are due the enactment of that law.

Six years ago he established The Ruralist at Sedalia, a farm and stock paper now read by 50,000 people every week, and has served as editor continuously since its start. During this time he has been intimately associated with the management of the Missouri State Fair, established its Press Bureau three years ago and has ever since served as superintendent of same thus being familiar with every detail of the legislative needs and requirements of this great state institution in which every citizen of Pettis county has a proprietary interest.

He is well equipped by natural ability supplemented by education, business training, experience in public affairs and familiarity with economic questions; is a fluent and forceful public speaker and ready debater, and should, if elected, make Pettis county a creditable and useful Representative. He possesses clearly defined views on public questions and the moral courage to express them. Having nothing in common with "straddlers" or "dodgers," the public will not be in doubt as to where he stands. He respectfully solicits the support in the primary of the Democratic voters of Pettis county on the assurance that if nominated and elected he will honestly strive to faithfully and efficiently serve the best interests of the county.

Because of the very meager salary (which barely covers necessary expenses during the session) candidacy for this office entails a heavy personal sacrifice upon any one having business interests of his own, hence Mr. Carroll will not make a personal canvass prior to the primary, but if nominated, he will carry his full share of the burden of the public canvass, under the direction of the County committee.

Those unacquainted with Mr. Carroll can form an idea as to his ability and standing by a perusal of the appended statements

By Ex-Governor Lon V. Stephens. (Copy.)

To Whom This May Concern:

There is no man in Missouri who has to a greater extent my confidence and esteem than Hon. M. V. Carroll. When governor of our state Mr. Carroll held an important appointment under me and proved one of the state's most valuable and efficient public servants. He is worthy and well qualified and I cheerfully recommend him and bespeak for him courteous consideration. Very respectfully, (Signed) LON V. STEPHENS. St. Louis, Missouri.

Hon. M. V. Carroll, Sedalia, Mo. My Dear Sir—I have just heard that you have become a candidate for Director of the Modern Woodmen and I hope you will be elected. I would gladly do anything in your behalf to further your interests in the matter and without the asking.

I remember with pleasure the service which you rendered as Secretary for the Missouri State Commission, Omaha Exposition, at the time I was president of said Commission. Furthermore, your ability, character and the value of your service were highly appreciated by every Commissioner. In my experience I have never seen any man with more ability or adaptability for promoting work in hand or for attending to details of organization than yourself.

Sincerely hoping that your ambition may be realized, I remain, with personal regards,

Yours sincerely,

GET JOBS FOR THE IDLE

THE IMMIGRATION MOVEMENT AT GALVESTON, TEXAS, WORKS WELL.

MIGHT BE TRIED IN OTHER PLACES

Finds Employment for New Citizens Away From the Congestion of the East During the Present Hard Times.

BY H. J. HASKELL.

(Exclusive service from Charities and The Commons Press Bureau.)

New York, June 27.—The so-called Galveston movement to divert Jewish immigration from New York to the gulf port has attracted wide attention. The doubt has been as to the feasibility of the plan. "Would not the new comers," it has been asked, "be dissatisfied in the west and drift back to the eastern settlements of their own nationality?"

The plan has been effective for so short a time that sufficient data to answer the question positively has not yet accumulated. Still, the experience of one of the most important distribution centers for the Galveston movement is instructive. Of approximately 1,000 immigrants who landed in Galveston in the six months following the establishing of the Jewish Immigrants' Information bureau, July 1, 1907, about 10 per cent were sent to Kansas City, where they came under the care of the United Jewish Charities and of Jacob Billikopf, superintendent.

An individual record of each of these hundred persons has been kept by him. It was rarely necessary to furnish board longer than a week at an individual cost of between five and six dollars. Within that time positions were almost invariably found. The period covered includes the months of financial depression which made employment uncertain. Mr. Billikopf found 375 jobs for his hundred charges. In most instances positions were lost through no fault of the employees. Rarely have more than half a dozen men been out of work at one time, for the west has not been as seriously affected by the financial depression as the east.

All sorts of occupations are represented among immigrants. There are tailors, shoemakers, bricklayers, tinners, blacksmiths, butchers, bookkeepers, locksmiths, woodworkers. Wherever possible men have been provided with work at their own occupations. In many cases, however, this has proved impossible and they have taken whatever offered. At present the tailors are making the highest wages. In some instances their pay has gone to $17, $18 and even $20 a week. Of the eighty-eight persons listed as at work May 1, forty-eight were receiving wages under $10 a week, with $5.50 as the minimum. Thirty-six were getting between $10 and $15 and four were getting $15 or more, the maximum being $20.

The record kept at the office of the United Jewish Charities in Kansas City makes interesting reading. There is W. B., for instance, soapmaker, who arrived July 1, 1907. He is working in a packing house for $9 a week. Since his arrival he has saved $175 and has sent for his family in Russia. N. P., a tailor, is making $16 a week, has saved $100 and expects to send for his family. I. Z., a laborer in a junk yard at $9 a week, has sent more than $100 to Russia. M. G., who arrived August 6, out of his salary of $10.50 a week as a sash and doorknocker, has saved $160 and has sent for his oldest daughter from Russia. M. B., an iron worker, on $12 a week saved $110 and now has taken a small farm.

So it goes down the list with only two discouraging entries—one man who was implicated in a theft and left town, and another who is listed as an undesirable citizen working only occasionally. But fourteen of the immigrants, working for the most part at meager wages, are credited with having saved $1,265 since their arrival in Kansas City.

The movement has not yet attracted the serious attention of the unions, possibly because it is not on an extensive scale. In one instance it was found possible to place a cornice worker in a union shop with the acquiescence of the union's business agent. It was pointed out to him that the newcomer would probably become sufficiently proficient within a few weeks to earn the union scale. As soon as he should reach that point the man promised to take out a card. The agent took the position that it was better to encourage such a man to enter the union than to force him into the ranks of the non-union forces. Therefore he consented that he should work in the shop on probation. Before the expiration of the period allotted the immigrant was able to join the union.

Apparently the immigrants diverted to the west through Galveston are not going to drift eastward. At least that is the Kansas City experience. Only half a dozen of those who have come to Kansas City have left town, and while the movement has not been of sufficient duration for a test, there seems no reason to suppose that the new arrivals will not be satisfied with the opportunities offered in the west.

As it is they are rapidly being transformed into Americans. The great social service of the organized Jewish charities in this transformation process is self-evident. If these Russian Jews, ignorant of the language and with their low standard of living, were plumped down into the west—into Kansas City, for instance—with no one to look after them, they would starve for a few days and then would drift into the ranks of unskilled labor with the chances against their ever rising. With the aid of the Charity Organization Society they are able to start above the property level. So they have a chance to look about with a view to improving their condition. First they see the need of learning English. This is provided for by the night schools of the Jewish organization—which ought to be supplanted by the public night schools. And then they begin to look for a better job.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with overwork. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble," by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in the small of back, gnawing or distressing "rising" in the throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is a non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Do not accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

made only a few dollars a month when he could get work, was started in Kansas City at $10 a week, which soon was raised to $12. That was opulence and he lived with the joy of a millionaire until he made a discovery. Then he went to Mr. Billikopf with a grievance.

"What's the matter?" inquired the superintendent. "Aren't you getting on all right?"

"Yes," was the reply, "only I have heard that Cohen, who isn't any better capmaker than I, is getting $18. When shall I be getting $18?"

That discontent was the evidence of the Russian capmaker's Americanization. And that is one of the fruits of the Galveston movement.

A GREAT SPELLING BEE

IT IS TO TAKE PLACE IN CLEVELAND, OHIO, DURING THE PRESENT WEEK.

PUPILS OF PITTSBURG TO CONTEST

Do You Think You Could Correctly Spell Seventy-Five Per Cent of the Words That Are Printed Below?

Pittsburg, Pa., June 27.—Fifteen Pittsburg youngsters, recruited from the public schools of Pittsburg and all below the high school grade, left today for Cleveland, where on Monday they will meet a like number of Cleveland school children in a spelling bee for national honors.

The contest will be a feature of the National Educational convention, which will attract to the Ohio metropolis over thirty thousand pedagogues from all over the land.

The elimination contests to select Pittsburg's representatives have been the talk of the school children here for weeks and it was only after the professors in charge had delved into the very innermost recesses of Webster and produced the most difficult words to be found in the dictionary that a sufficient number succumbed to bring the list down to the required fifteen.

As an instance of the ability of the Smoky City youngsters, seventy-five of 164 children correctly spelled 75 per cent of the following words:

Effervescence, offal, surcingle, quintessence, parliament, polonaise, rescind, reprieve, liquefy, threshold, skewer, seismograph, charade, chiffonier, singeing, liturgy, ilanos, skein, valise, asphyxia, seize, inveigle, sarcophagus, salicylic, hyperbole, narcissus, palette, proscenium, vilify, sidereal, caoutchouc, omniscient, acquiescence, fascchia, trefail, scythe, rhythm, rancid, basque, clayey, cayenne, purlier, chrysalis, rendezvous, disabille, chaparon, appendicitis, corrugated, hirsute, mayhem, gazetteer, lachrymal, satiate, souvenir, parafine, finale, crocheting, bureau, Crevasse, fissure, chapeau, prescience, beryl, bilious, viscid, vitriol, crotchet, epiglottis, baboon, banditti, aborigines, lascivious, diphthong, well-gelia, chameleon, prejudicial, equippage, reminiscence, stereoscope, precede, pyrotechnic, feudal, procedure, kalledoscope, spermeceti, ensilage, puissance, tranquillity, halevoa, califf, pseudonym, Connoisseur, hemorrhage, rallery, cynosure, expatiate, prebelian, trisyllable, weird, taciturn.

A LETTER FROM GOTHAM

GLENN GUERNSEY MEETS AN ENGLISHMAN WHO WAS ENJOYING A JOKE.

FOUND IT IN A FUNNY NEWSPAPER

Does Not Take Much to Make the Average Briton Smile—The Chorus Girl Is to Study Browning, Etc.

BY GLENN GUERNSEY. New York, June 27.—Some folk have a remarkable conception of what constitutes humor. Especially Englishmen. To illustrate:

At the mouth of Nassau street, where that swift and narrow river of humanity empties into City Hall park, I saw an Englishman—there was no doubting his nationality—leaning against a lamp post, laughing exuberantly. Beginning with a chuckle, his glee rapidly grew more demonstrative, shaking his plump sides and trickling out with an ecstatic wriggle of the toes.

The object of his mirth was evidently a newspaper—one of the yellowest of the yellow—which he referred to from time to time, each look accompanied by a fresh outburst. Then he suddenly sobered, consulted his watch, examined a pocket calendar and then peeked upward to where the sun showed as a narrow rim, surmounting a skyscraper. Apparently satisfied, he resumed his laughter.

Approaching, I asked, with respectful humility, to be allowed to share the joke. Suspiciously, in the way of Englishmen, he looked me over. Then, his good humor returning, he inquired, between gusts of laughter: "It is now 10:30 o'clock in the morning, isn't it?"

I examined my dollar chronometer, consulted a neighboring clock, and informed him that he was substantially correct.

"Well, look at this," he commanded, showing before my outraged nose the gaudy red and black headlines of Mr. Hearst's great journalistic tribune of the common people. "It is now 10:30 o'clock in the morning," he replied, "and this paper reads, 'Six o'clock evening edition.' What a deuced strange mistake, don't you know?"

With that, the benighted creature began laughing again. I turned away in disgust, not stopping to explain that what he thought a prodigiously funny mistake was something that we New Yorkers accept quite as a matter of course. And everyone knows that we are quite the wittiest as well as the wisest people of the universe.

Behold, the regeneration of the coryphee! No longer is her name to be a synonym for frivolity, intellect and culture is hereafter to fairly radiate from her beautiful person. If you don't believe it, ask any official or member of the Pisistratus Club.

It is this organization, with a membership including nearly all the chorus girls of the "great white way," that is to prove to the world that the coryphee is a creature of intellect as well as of physical graces. Whereupon they have set about to study Browning and Shakespeare and Voltaire and Maeterlinck and Ella Wheeler Wilcox with all the enthusiasm of any other women's club, bent on immediately absorbing large gobs of culture.

After all, inquire these young women, why shouldn't a girl who dances and sings for a living be possessed of a brain, as well as other and more obvious allurements? Why shouldn't she have a mind above automobiles and champagne and small, hot birds and Pittsburgh millionaires? To these indignant inquiries all must respond, "She has." And yet, it does seem a little strange that a chorus girl should have a head, other than as a peg to hang a pretty face on.

BLIND ORATOR SWAYS MANY

New Senator from Oklahoma Has Overcome Stupendous Handicap.

A man totally blind would hardly seem adapted for modern political life, yet one so afflicted has fought through three exciting campaigns and has just been elected United States Senator from Oklahoma. The blindness of Thomas Pryor Gore was caused by two painful accidents. At 8 a boy playmate injured his left eye with a stone; three years later he himself shot a toy arrow into the other.

When his father suggested his attending a school for the blind, he declared, "I will go to school here. A school for the blind will furnish neither the books nor the opportunity I seek." Events justified his choice, says the April Delineator; he gained the highest honors there and at law school and college. At 19 he was nominee for the Legislature; at 22 Populistic delegate-at-large in Mississippi and was unanimously selected in 1900 as congressional standard bearer for the same party in Texas.

He owes his success to his power as an orator. His memory is remarkable. It is recorded that at a meeting with an opposition speaker—Senator Money—Gore asked for a division of time. Disregarding his youth and blindness, Money replied: "I will speak as long as I please; you are at liberty to do the same."

For three hours he harangued, thinking to exhaust Gore's patience. The latter patiently bided his time, and then for four hours more entertained the howlingly appreciative audience. Page after page of the Congressional Record he quoted from memory—quotations that filled his audience, but stripped him of every defense. Now Gore's opponents realize that he is not a man to be tampered with or ignored. His career in the Senate will be worth watching.

ECLIPSE OF SUN TODAY

WILL HIDE HIS FACE FOR OVER THREE HOURS IN THE UNITED STATES.

POINT WHERE IT IS ALMOST TOTAL

It is About Two Hundred Miles Wide and Extends Across Mexico, the Gulf of Mexico and Florida.

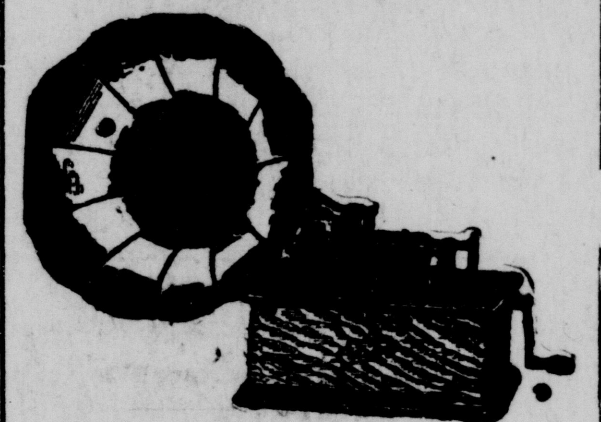

Washington, June 27.—Old Sol will go into partial eclipse tomorrow morning and for over three hours will hide his face from the people of a considerable portion of the United States.

The area in which the eclipse may be observed covers the entire American continent south of latitude 60, as well as South America north of the equator and large portions of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, Southwestern Europe and West Africa.

As the moon is now at almost its greatest distance from the earth, it will not, when apparently directly in front of the sun, quite conceal it.

The area where such a central observation may be made and where the eclipse is most nearly total is about 200 miles wide and extends across Mexico and the Gulf of Florida.

The first contact of the eclipse, as viewed in Washington, will begin at 9:27 tomorrow morning, reaching its greatest degree of obscuration at 11:22 and ending at 12:59 o'clock.

STRENGTH OF MR. BRYAN

MUCH STRONGER THAN HE WAS IN EITHER THE YEAR 1896
OR YEAR 1900.

WHO WILL BE ON TICKET WITH HIM

Should It Be Woodrow Wilson, With Mr. Bryan at the Head, Would Furnish a Pair of Truly Invincible Speakers.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Washington, D. C., June 27.—Many democrats in Washington assert that Bryan will prove a stronger candidate in many states than he was either in 1896 or 1900, and they predict a smaller number of bolters this year than at any time since the last Cleveland campaign. It is on this belief most of their confidence is based that Bryan will carry a sufficient number of states north of Mason and Dixon's line to defeat Taft for the presidency. Nor is the so-called radicalism of Bryan regarded as so much of a menace as it was a few years or months ago by the more conservative democrats. The anti-Bryan democrats, in fact, show a decided change of front since the nominations were made at Chicago, and are declaring that Bryan stands out as the strongest man, after all.

If Woodrow Wilson should be nominated for vice president on the democratic ticket, with Bryan at the head, it is declared that these two would make an almost invincible pair of speakers in the campaign. In the east, President Wilson is much feared, as he is regarded as one of the most convincing and finished of orators.

Former Representative John J. Lentz, of Ohio, was in Washington this week, and in an interview stated, among other interesting things: "I believe the democratic party will get a large number of republican votes, and also receive the support of organized labor. The attempt on the part of the republican national convention to pacify labor failed miserably. The attempt was made to pull the wool over labor's eyes, but it did not quite succeed."

Republican leaders are seriously troubled with the rather serious question of how to secure a man who will measure up to the situation and will make an energetic and aggressive speaking tour of the west as an offset to Bryan. The bolt of two prominent papers in the west is said to cause much worry to Secretary Taft's friends, and the report that an Indiana paper may join the bolters has in no way lessened the worry of the secretary's advisers. In this year's campaign Indiana is regarded as one of the doubtful states.

Much concern is felt over the illness of the vice presidential nominee on the republican ticket, Representative Sherman, and quite a discussion has been precipitated over the possible outcome. Many men prominent in the councils of both parties have expressed their views of the action to be taken to fill a vacancy on the presidential or vice presidential ticket that might occur between the date of the nominating convention and that of election, but a cursory review of precedents shows that no such emergency has ever arisen. Representative James T. Loyd, of Missouri, chairman of the democratic congressional committee, stated it as his opinion that the national committee of either party involved would have full power to name a vice presidential candidate in case of an emergency. This is the view held by the chairman and many members of the republican national committee and by many democrats. It is recalled that at the democratic convention at St. Louis, four years ago, a resolution was passed by the convention authorizing the democratic national committee to fill a vacancy in case of necessity, as the nominee for vice president, Mr. Davis, was eighty years old.

It was with deepest sorrow and regret that Washington learned of the death of ex-President Grover Cleveland. In spite of the fact that Mr. Cleveland had been seriously ill for several weeks and his death was feared, the news was a shock to the capital, and many were the expressions of profound regret in official and private circles.

Nine out of ten democrats will tell you that the ticket they want to see ominated at Denver is Bryan and Johnson. It is generally conceded that the battleground is to be in the middle west, and Bryan must carry states in that section which are normally republican, and to this end Johnson would help mightily. Democrats, too, put a great deal of trust in Olney, of Massachusetts, and such a ticket, Bryan and Olney, would command respect.

That the Denver platform will be radical there can be little doubt, but it is declared, that at most it will hardly be as radical as some of the doctrines of Theodore Roosevelt. One level-headed Washingtonian is of the opinion that the railroad, corporation and trust questions should be treated as follows: Federal incorporation of all railroads as the only adequate means of providing the necessary supervision; prosecution of all violations of the law on evidence, but no persecutions on public clamor.

TO RAISE THE LICENSE

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE COUNCIL WAS HELD LAST NIGHT.

WAS POSTPONED UNTIL MONDAY

Proposition is to Increase the City Tax on Saloons From $600 to $1200 Annually—Is Opposed by Liquor Dealers.

There was a special meeting of the city council last night called for the purpose of increasing saloon licenses from $600 to $1200 annually.

Messrs. Baker, DeJarnette, Hatton, Ilgenfritz, Johns and Sullivan were present and Messrs. Olmsted, and Andler were absent.

After the third reading of the ordinance Mr. Ilgenfritz moved that it be tabled until the next regular meeting. Mr. Hatton seconded the motion. Alderman Johns offered an amendment to the effect that the ordinance be tabled until next Monday night. This amendment was seconded by Alderman DeJarnette, and on a vote being taken the amendment carried. The matter will thus come before the council for action tomorrow night.

Judge George F. Longan was present in the interest of the liquor dealers and spoke against the increase, saying the saloons could not afford to have their licenses increased at this time.

Miss Margaret Hays Blackman, society editress on the Morning Capital, tendered her resignation last night, effective at once, and left on the Katy flyer this morning for Muskogee, Ok., where she will accept a position on the Phoenix. Her successor is unnamed.

For seven years Miss Blackman, who is well and favorably known throughout Central Missouri as one of the most versatile writers, has been employed on the Capital in the capacity of society editress, and her daily contributions to that paper of brief stories have established for her a reputation unequalled by any lady writer in this section of the state.

The best wishes of the Democrat-Sentinel will accompany her to her new field of labor.

GUESTS OF MRS. CONDON

A DELIGHTFUL SURPRISE WAS TENDERED HER ON FRIDAY NIGHT.

IT WAS ANNIVERSARY OF HER BIRTH

The Financial Secretary of Sacred Heart Branch, C. K. and L. of A., Was Most Pleasantly Remembered by Friends.

A most enjoyable surprise party was given Friday night for Mrs. Mary E. Condon at her cosy little home, 1209 East Ninth street, the members of Sacred Heart branch No. 157, C. K. & L. of A., for which society Mrs. Condon has ably filled the position of financial secretary for the past nine years, she having been chosen for the office she now holds when the branch was first organized, the occasion being her birthday anniversary.

The jolly crowd assembled at the home of Miss Josephine Rast, one of the members of the order, and then proceeded to Mrs. Condon's home, carrying with them delicious refreshments, which were served later.

Mrs. Condon was equal to the emergency and threw open her doors to one and all, and they enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent.

The spacious lawn was illuminated with Japanese lanterns by the young folks assembled, and settees and lawn swings furnished comfortable seats for all.

After the members of the lodge had assembled at the table for refreshments, Mrs. E. B. Burrows, the recording secretary of the branch, who had worked in accord with Mrs. Condon since the organization of the society, she having also been a faithful officer, always at her post, presented to Mrs. Condon, in behalf of the society, a beautiful set of engraved silver tablespoons, enclosed in an elegant case, as a token of her faithful work done for the society and the high appreciation of the same.

Mrs. Condon was also presented with a handsome rocker by her children, who wish her to sit back and take life easy the remainder of her days.

At a late hour refreshments of ice cream, cake and lemonade were served. Social converse and several instrumental and vocal solos, rendered by Mr. William J. Katzer and Mr. Joseph Benth, with guitar and string instruments, also a piano duet by Misses Emelia Lorschbach and Stella Condon, whiled away the hours, and at midnight the crowd dispersed, wishing Mrs. Condon many happy returns of the day.

Among those present were the following: Mesdames Herman Loos, vice president of the society; Helen Berry, former president; Mary E. Condon, Hattie Adams, E. B. Burrows, Gus Rottler, Theresa Imberger, Hermine Imhauser; Misses Lizzie and Anna Beuth, Emma Keller, Ida and Emelia Lorschbach, Laura Clegg, Lurene Keck, Ida Lennartz, Catherine Deppe, Ruby Riley, Stella and Etta Condon; Messrs. William J. Katzer, Otto C. Botz, Frank G. Wayne, Joseph Beuth and George Yopst.

A most beautiful bouquet of carnations, tea roses and ferns, a gift of a dear friend, and also bouquets of cut sweet pears and nasturtiums added a great fragrance and beauty to the tables.

MR. SHERMAN IS BETTER

Candidate for Vice President Continues to Improve.

Cleveland, O., June 27.—Congressman James S. Sherman, republican candidate for vice president, again enjoyed a good night's sleep and awakened this morning with his temperature, pulse and respiration normal.

MORE MEN BACK TO WORK

At the New Shops of the Missouri Pacific Tomorrow.

Four machinists and two apprentices, four blacksmiths and their helpers, four boilermakers and their helpers and a couple of carpenters will be put to work at the new shops of the Missouri Pacific tomorrow morning.

A few men were put to work the past week in the different departments, and the belief now is that the company intends in this manner to re-open the shops, putting men to work in the several branches of the service as their services may be required.

In every instance the old men are to be given preference. This was not done recently in the case of a couple of boilermakers put to work, and the men discriminated against made complaint to Mr. Smith, superintendent of motive power, in St. Louis.

Mr. Smith decided that the old men should be called first in every department, and this rule will be followed in the future until the entire old force is employed.

It is believed that by the 20th of July a full force of mechanics will be employed at the shops, and it will be only a short time after that until trade in mercantile circles is again booming as it was before the shops closed on February 20, last.

LID FOR CHURCH PICNICS

ARCHBISHOP GLENNON, OF ST. LOUIS, LAYS DOWN LAW FOR PARISHIONERS.

NO GETTING AWAY FROM ST. LOUIS

Urges Priests to Enforce Council of Baltimore's Anti-Liquor Rule—Raise Funds for the New Cathedral.

St. Louis, June 27.—Archbishop Glennon, addressing more than 400 priests of the archdiocese of St. Louis in triennial synod at Kendrick seminary, Friday, enjoined them not to permit, in future, the serving of wine or beer at church picnics, fairs or entertainments of any kind, nor at the banquets of church societies.

The Council of Baltimore, several years ago, adopted a rule against intoxicants at such parish events, but it has not been enforced in St. Louis. The archbishop said that hereafter the rule would be rigidly applied.

While some of the societies of the Catholic church, like the Knights of Father Mathew, are organized on a total abstinence basis, others do not officially disapprove of the use of liquor and have served it at banquets in and around St. Louis.

The archbishop also announced his plan to raise the balance required for the new $1,000,000 cathedral by assessment on all the parishes of the archdiocese.

He said that $800,000 of the necessary $1,000,000 had been raised by subscription, and that he would expect the priests to raise the remainder in connection with their parish revenues.

The archbishop said he would appoint a committee of priests, both regular (members of religious orders) and secular (those not so connected) to determine the assessments of the various parishes.

It was stated that Fr. Hukestein, of St. Augustine's (German) church, would be one of the secular priests on the committee.

A hum of comment went around among the clergy present, and one priest from a parish outside of St. Louis arose, saying he wished to offer a suggestion. The archbishop told him his suggestions should be offered to the committee, and he sat down.

GUESTS AT A DINING

Then a Tally-Ho Ride, Followed by a Visit to the Air-dome.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Adamson, of the Jesse French Piano company, gave a 6 o'clock dining at the Antlers hotel Friday evening with the following as guests.

Mrs. A. J. Alexander and daughter, Miss Louisa, Misses Arline Phipps and Stella Hurley, Mrs. B. F. Hughes, Pitkin Stanley and Mr. and Mrs. Adamson.

After the dining the party enjoyed a tally-ho ride over the city, and later they witnessed the play at the Air-dome.

Mr. and Mrs. Adamson are splendid entertainers, and their guests passed a truly delightful evening.

DIED TO SAVE HER HONOR

MAN WHO ATTACKED HER IN A BOAT ALSO LOST LIFE BY DROWNING.

BODIES OF BOTH ARE RECOVERED

Sister of Young Woman Reported Her Disappearance to Police When Neither Returned After Leaving Park.

Peoria, Ill., June 27.—That Miss Dorothy N. Flagg, a visitor here from Galesburg, died defending her honor, and dragged William Patterson, her suitor, to death with her, became evident yesterday, when the bodies of both were taken from the Illinois river here.

The tragedy ended a boat ride on which the couple set out Tuesday evening from Al Fresco park, where Patterson was a concessionaire. The young woman was 23 years old. Patterson was 25.

After the boat, in which they set out, was found overturned, systematic search was instituted for the bodies. William Gearey, a fisherman, discovered Patterson's body floating near the pumping station, more than a mile from the spot from which he and Miss Flagg started, and within an hour a searching party found Miss Flagg's body a little further down stream.

After complete investigation, the authorities here declare that Miss Flagg unquestionably lost her life repulsing Patterson. There were evidences of a violent struggle.

Miss Flagg came here a week ago to visit Mrs. May Gill, who took her to Al Fresco park and introduced her to Patterson. Miss Flagg visited the park several times after that and Patterson each time left his concession to escort her about the grounds.

Mrs. Gill was with Miss Flagg during these visits to the park and accompanied her Tuesday evening. She tried to dissuade her guest from accepting Patterson's invitation to take a boat ride, but Miss Flagg said that the prospect of an evening on the water was too alluring to be resisted.

Mrs. Gill waited until midnight, growing more and more uneasy. On Wednesday she reported to the police that her visitor had failed to return from the boat ride, and asked that an investigation be started. The boat was found Thursday.

Mrs. Gill says she is under the impression that Miss Flagg was engaged to be married to a young man in Galesburg.

Miss Flagg's mother lives on Ferris street in Galesburg. Patterson is said to be a nephew of the owner of the Patterson Amusement Co., of Kansas, who is wealthy.

HIS NECK WAS BROKEN

P. C. Keyes Attended the Funeral of His Brother.

P. C. Keyes, an M. K. & T. brakeman, returned Friday from Clinton, where, on the previous day, he attended the funeral of his brother, H. C. Keyes, a locomotive fireman on the Kansas City, Clinton and Springfield railroad, who was killed in an accident at Humansville, Mo., on June 23.

Mr. Keyes was walking from the engine of the train to the caboose to get a drink of water, and, while standing on a freight car he was struck by the bridge, his neck being broken. His remains were interred at Clinton Thursday.

CHANGE IN MANAGERS

George F. Hall to Succeed George F. Olendorf at Sedalia Theater.

George F. Olendorf, manager of the Sedalia theater, has returned from a visit in St. Joseph, and Saturday announced that after July 1 his active connection with the local playhouse will cease and that George F. Hall, who has been his assistant for two years, the last year as business manager, will on that date assume the position of manager.

Mr. Olendorf will at the same time take the management of the Baldwin theater in Springfield, although he will remain in Sedalia for some time looking after business of the circuit which has accumulated.

While all who know Mr. Olendorf will regret very sincerely his leaving this city, they will at the same time be glad that in selecting his successor he chose Mr. Hall. Mr. Hall's rise in the theatrical business has been very rapid, but he in every way deserves the promotion that has come to him. He is genial, clever, accommodating, but above all is a careful and painstaking business man, who always has the welfare of the public as well as the advancement of his company's interests thoroughly at heart, and he is bound to make good.

Mr. Olendorf dislikes to leave Sedalia and would not were it not that duty demands. He will take with him the most hearty good wishes of the entire community.

STATE COMMITTEE WORK

DEMOCRATS ARE PERFECTING ORGANIZATION UNDER MR. RUBEY.

ALL IS NOW READY FOR CAMPAIGN

Party Will Be Prepared to Take Up the Battle Immediately After August Primaries, the Chairman Says.

Macon, Mo., June 27.—Under the direction of Harry M. Rubey, the democratic state central committee has got down to business. The party forces are now being organized from one end of the state to the other, and when the primaries have been held and the nominations made the democratic party will be ready for the fray with the best organization that ever supported a ticket in Missouri.

Mr. Rubey has believed at all times that it is the duty of the present committee to perfect such an organization as would be effective immediately after the nominations are made.

Since his election as chairman of the committee, he has been working steadily to that end. If Mr. Rubey continues to meet with his present success, no change in the committee or its officers will have any effect upon the campaign.

Mr. Rubey takes an extremely optimistic view of the situation and believes that the present harmony in democratic ranks will continue. He urges upon county committees that they perfect their organizations and perfect them now. There is no time like "now" in the opinion of Mr. Rubey, and he holds that "now" is the time for democrats to put in their best work.

"The party is united now as it has not been in ten years," says Mr. Rubey, "and there is no question in my mind as to the result. The work at this office has been progressing rapidly for the last two months. We have been organizing and getting our forces together, and the prospects for democratic success this fall were never brighter."

"Everybody in the state is interested in politics this year, and the committee is having no trouble in getting all the assistance it needs from every county in the state. If the democrats will continue to work as they have started there is no question in my mind but that we will be able to carry Missouri by the old-time majority."

ARE AFTER "SOBA" BREMER

Charged With Selling Liquor on Sunday, June 7.

Prosecuting Attorney Dow Saturday filed information against H. A. Bremer, a West Main street saloon keeper, charging illegal sale of liquor on Sunday, June 7.

Complaint was made by George Bartlett and the following were subpoenaed as witnesses to testify against the defendant: Claud Clark, Henry Ford, Dan Long, George and Maggie Bartlett.

In the information it is specifically stated Bremer sold one half pint of whisky for twenty-five cents and ten bottles of beer at ten cents each to Bartlett on the date mentioned in the foregoing.

Bremer was arrested by Sheriff Sprecher and released on a $200 bond, signed by Charles Connelly.

ASKS FOR A JURY TRIAL

HARRY THAW'S NEW HABEAS CORPUS WILL KEEP HIM FROM MATTEAWAN.

JUDGE'S DECISION IS AGAINST HIM

Millionaire Hopes for Freedom—Judge Mills of Supreme Court to Decide the Legality of the Asylum Sentence.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 27.—Harry Thaw has obtained a new writ of habeas corpus returnable before Supreme Justice Mills, of White Plains, N. Y. The writ was obtained in anticipation of Judge Morschauser's signing an order at 11 o'clock this morning recommitting Thaw to Matteawan.

The anticipation by Thaw and his counsel that Justice Morschauser would recommit the slayer of Stanford White to Matteawan proved correct. District Attorney Mack presented to the judge this forenoon the formal order of recommitment to Matteawan, which Judge Morschauser promptly signed.

It would have had the effect of returning Thaw to Matteawan today, but, just before the order was signed, Under Sheriff Townsend, who has been the custodian of Thaw ever since the first habeas corpus proceedings were begun, was served with the new writ of habeas corpus which commands the sheriff to produce Thaw in the supreme court at White Plains Monday morning.

Charles Morschauser, of Poughkeepsie, now that his brother, Justice Morschauser, has finally disposed of the case, has been retained by Thaw to conduct the new proceedings.

The writ was obtained from Judge Mills, last evening at Troy, where the judge was stopping over night, on his way home from a trip to Massachusetts.

It will be served today on Dr. Barker of the Matteawan state asylum; Dr. Lamb, superintendent of the asylum, who has just returned from Europe, and on District Attorney Jerome, of New York.

Harry Thaw was delighted with the turn affairs have taken. He made the following statement:

"I cannot bear the thought of returning to Matteawan on account of being obliged to associate there with insane people. I would rather go to prison. I have believed all along, especially since Justice Morschauser handed down his decision, that if I could get my case to a jury, I would be able to convince twelve men of my present sanity and thereby secure my liberty. I am anxious to take the stand and be examined as to my mental condition, feeling confident that a jury will agree that I am not insane."

The petition on which Judge Mills granted the new writ is made by A. Russell Peabody as attorney and next friend of Thaw. It recites that Thaw is restrained of his liberty by Sheriff Robert W. Chanler, of Dutchess county, and that he is not detained by virtue of any mandate issued by a court or judge of the United States, nor by a final judgment or decree of a competent tribunal of civil or criminal jurisdiction.

The petition attacks the validity of Thaw's commitment to the custody of the sheriff of Dutchess county, as well as the commitment to Matteawan after the second trial, when the jury rendered a verdict of acquittal on account of insanity.

TALKED "STANDARD OIL"

President and Frank B. Kellogg Had a Conference.

New York, June 27.—Frank B. Kellogg, special attorney general, prosecuting the government's case to dissolve the Standard Oil Co., had a conference today with the president at Oyster Bay.

Mr. Kellogg was summoned to Oyster Bay by a telegram which he received yesterday in Washington, where he had gone to confer with Attorney General Bonaparte on several phases of the Standard Oil case.

SHOULD REDUCE THE MILITARY BURDEN.

The United States is to have a standing army of 250,000 men. This will be pleasing news to the militarists and expansionists. Under the provisions of the Dick law, the national guards of the various states are to be welded into the regular organization and developed along with the federal army into a compact whole, capable of rendering efficient service in the full numerical strength of both branches. For the first time in the history of the country, the president and the war department are given control over the state militia. The members of the national guard in all states are today subject to a call to arms from the chief executive and can be forced to go out of the state for duty anywhere that the national authorities may direct. In this respect they do not differ from the regular troops.

It would seem under this commendable and practical reorganization of the military, retrenchment in the expenditures for maintaining the regular service might be made. If the federal body of only about one-fifth the total now secured was made to fill requirements under the old order of things, surely it will not have to be expanded and its appropriations increased under an augmented force of approximately 200,000 men, which entails no expenses upon the war department. Yet, there was in the last session of congress, notwithstanding the Dick law, a movement to raise the federal army to a footing of 125,000 men.

The expenses of the army have increased by leaps since the war with Spain, and today the annual appropriation is near the $100,000,000 mark.

The reinforcement of the military by the state troops ought, as a matter of fact, to reduce the war department estimates, but it is a question if this augmentation of the army will not serve to whet the appetites of the expansionists for more and costlier agencies of war.

THE COMING FOURTH.

All over the country cities, towns and families are preparing for the Fourth of July celebration. The work is both offensive and defensive. It is offensive in that it is disagreeable, noisy, bad smelling and dangerous. It is defensive in that prudent mothers and prudent physicians and undertakers are preparing poultices and plasters, lint and surgical instruments, hospitals and coffins for the slain and the wounded of that dreadful day. In the matter of foolish and foolhardy celebration, the United States on the Fourth of July takes the cake.

The surgeon general of the army has issued a circular, suggesting precautions against tetanus or lock jaw, the inevitable July epidemic. In the last five years there have been 786 cases of tetanus as the result of our Independence day celebration. Seven hundred and twenty-one have died. Six hundred and eighty of these deaths resulted from blank cartridge wounds—the blank cartridge is mistakenly supposed to be harmless. The warning gives the following explanation of the origin and operation of the tetanus bacillus:

The bacillus of tetanus, or its spore form, is found in earth, especially in garden earth, stable manure and the dust of the streets, stables and human habitations. The feces of the healthy animal, such as the horse, cow, dog, and even man, may contain tetanus spores.

When tetanus spores are introduced under the skin they at once germinate, if oxygen is excluded, and begin to elaborate tetanus toxin. In a short time it appears in the blood, which carries it to all parts of the body, where it is absorbed by the motor nerve endings, which are bathed in the toxin-laden fluid. The nerves supplying the jaws, especially the masseteric, seem to have an exaggerated affinity for the poison, which explains the early trismus.

The following treatment for Fourth of July injuries is suggested:

"Incise freely every wound.
"Carefully and thoroughly remove from the wound every particle of foreign matter.

"Cauterize the wound thoroughly with 25 per cent carbolic acid.

Apply loosely a wet pack of 23 per cent carbolic acid.

"Give a full dose of antitetanic serum."

SOMETHING TO BOAST ABOUT.

It is too common for Americans at home and abroad to plume themselves upon the magnificence of their country. In fact, the American abroad has made himself obnoxious by his braggadocio, but he is not unique in this respect. The Englishman brags, as well as the Frenchman and German. The Japanese brags, in his way, and the arrogant assumption, "Ego sum Romanus," shows that the ancients were not free of the bacillus of boasting.

But the American is perhaps the most boastful boaster that boasts in modern times, and he has much to boast about. There is no other land in all the world so favored as the United States. The crop that is now being harvested is estimated to be worth eight billions of dollars, a sum so stupendous that it can not be grasped by the intellect, but which is sufficient to pay the national debt and buy all the railroads in the United States, besides. In the cotton crop this country is without a competitor. Cotton is raised in India, in China, and in Egypt, and the crops may be seen going to market in bullock carts and on the backs of donkeys and camels, but the little raised in other climes compares with ours in only a remote degree as to quality and quantity. Our cotton crop alone usually equals the entire crop value of many other countries of the world.

While railroad earnings and dividends are declining, railroad stocks are advancing. Is anything else needed to show that the upward trend of the Wall street stock market is being manipulated.

The Dunkards refused to consider any radical change in the feminine headgear. The Dunkards have probably been getting prices on merry widow hats.

Tammany braves are going to carry $100,000 to Denver as pocket change. Will it take about that much to attract the attention of the Denver waiter?

MAKING OF BOGUS COINS

THE METALS USED IN THE IMITATIONS OF COIN OF THE REALM.

MOLDS QUITE EXTENSIVELY USED

Counterfeits So Made, However, Are Inferior to Those Made With a Die, Says the "Counterfeit Detector."

The most dangerous counterfeits are struck from a die, and are usually imitations of gold coins. Molds of various kinds are extensively used, but counterfeits so made are inferior to those made with a die.

In counterfeits made from a mold, lettering, milling and reeding are usually poor, weight very defective; the coins lack the snap and clear-cut appearance of genuine coin. Most counterfeit silver coins in circulation are made from molds, as it is an inexpensive form of counterfeiting. Some fair specimens have been produced in this way, but usually they are much lighter than the genuine, and if of required weight differ in diameter or thickness, says the Counterfeit Detector.

Various molds are used by counterfeiters, principally platinum, silver, copper, brass, antimony, aluminum, zinc, type metal, lead and their numerous compositions.

Among the most dangerous counterfeits of gold coins are those of a composition of gold, silver and copper. They are a low grade gold, and the acid test shows they lack the fineness of standard gold used by the United States mint, which is .900 fine, or 21.19 carats. These counterfeits average from 400 to 800 fine. Platinum counterfeits are dangerous, as the metal used gives required weight and they are heavily gold plated, when they have been in circulation for a time the plating wears off, especially on the edges.

The most dangerous counterfeit of silver coin is made of a composition of antimony and lead, the former metal predominating. These counterfeits are of the dollar, have a fine appearance, and heavily silver plated, with fair ring. Some are only slightly below the standard weight.

Some pieces among the smaller coins are made of brass struck from a die, and when heavily plated are fair imitations. They lack required weight, except in a few instances. Counterfeits of type metal, lead and other compositions are much lighter than genuine. Those having required weight are much too thick.

Genuine coins of all kinds for the sake of gain are tampered with in various ways. These operations are confined almost exclusively to gold coins, which are sweated, pugged and filled.

Sweating is removing a portion of the gold from the surface of coin. The process does not interfere with the ring, and, as the portion removed is generally slight, the coin is left with a very fair appearance, weight only being defective. The principal methods of sweating are the acid bath, filing the edges or reeding, the operator finding a profit in the small quantities of gold removed from numerous pieces. The average reduction in value of coins subjected to these processes is one-twentieth to one-tenth.

Plugging is done by boring holes in the coin, extracting the gold and filling the cavity with a cheaper metal. The larger coins—double eagles and eagles ($20 and $10 pieces)—are used for this purpose. Holes are bored into the coin from the edge or reeding, the gold extracted, and the cavity filled with a base metal. The small surface of the plugging material, where it is shown on the edge of the coin, is covered with gold and reeding retouched with a file or machine. The average loss in value to coins treated in this way is from one-eighth to one-sixth. Coins of this kind are very dangerous, as they are perfect in appearance, the edges only having been tampered with.

Filing is most commonly done by sawing the coin through from the edge or reeding, removing the interior portion and replacing it with a cheap metal. Coins of all denominations from quarter eagles to double eagles are subject to this process. When platinum is used to replace the gold extracted the coin has the same weight as genuine. By this process coins lose four-fifths of their value, as the original surfaces are left only of paper thickness.

When edges have been covered with gold and reeding restored the coin has the appearance of being genuine, having correct size and weight, and a fair ring. Sometimes the covering of gold on edges is so thin that filing can be distinctly seen. When other and less costly filling than platinum is used coins are of light weight and have a bad ring. If of correct weight they are too thick.

Another method of filling is sawing the coin partly in two from edge of reeding, on one side, leaving a thin and thick portion. The thin side of the coin is turned back and the gold extracted from center of thicker portion. The cavity is filled with base metal and pressed back into original position and soldered or brazed together. It is difficult to give average loss to coins treated in this manner, as hardly any two seem to have the same amount of gold taken from them.

For detecting counterfeit coin compare impress, size, weight, ring and general appearance with genuine coin of same period and coinage. The three tests of weight, diameter and thickness should be applied, for it is almost impossible for the counterfeit to comply with these three tests without being genuine metal.

Ernest Quisenberry, of Slater, is the guest of J. Willis Smith and wife.

Rev. Mr. Swetzer, of Elizabethtown, Ky., has assumed the pastorate of the Baptist churches in this city and Aultville. He will reside in the Morrow cottage in the Springs grounds.

E. L. Spurgeon shipped a load of hogs to the St. Louis market Wednesday from his stock farm south of this city.

George S. Scales, of Plainville, Mich., has a story in this week's issue of the Herald, entitled "The Loyal Church." The story has a local setting, and is a well written take-off on the common practice of patronizing mail order houses in preference to the home merchant.

A game of baseball was played on the diamond in Brun's park Sunday afternoon between the Lexington Merchants, in which the former were the victors, the score being 7 to 4. On Wednesday afternoon the Houstonia second nine played the Sweet Springs second nine here, the latter winning the game by a score of 7 to 4.

The Epworth league convention of the Lexington district has been in session in the Methodist church in this city Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of the past week. The work of the convention has been interesting from the beginning, and each session has been well attended.

Sweet Springs friends of Lee B. Hart, of Seattle, Wash., will regret to learn that he is dangerously ill at the home of his father in that city. Mr. Hart grew to manhood here, removing from here to Seattle and later to California and Arizona, the state of his health demanding the latter changes. The benefit derived was only temporary and he was compelled to return to Seattle.

Miss Gem Binkley and her guest, Miss Mary Sloan, of Kansas City, spent a part of the week with Sedalia friends.

Miss Nell Smith was hostess to ten girls at a 1 o'clock luncheon on Tuesday, complimentary to her guest, Miss Irene Shepard, of Kansas City. This function, in one of Sweet Springs most beautiful and well appointed homes, was delightful in every particular. The charming personality of both the hostess and the guest of honor, together with the congenial party present, left nothing to be desired.

The beautiful country home of Mrs. Will Smith, south of this city was the scene of a merry party on Friday afternoon, at which time Mrs. Smith entertained the members of the Whist club and a few invited guests. Mrs. Smith has but recently become a member of the club, but the gracious hospitality extended her guests has made her one of the most popular. On this occasion three tables of progressives whist participated, Miss Elizabeth Goggin winning the prize, a beautiful plate. A delicious lunch was served, consisting of chicken salad, wafers, tomatoes, cheese straws and fruit ices, which concluded one of the season's most enjoyable parties.

COURT TO END HER FAST

FOOD ORDERED FORCED DOWN THROAT OF A STARVING DOWIE CONVERT.

SHE ASSERTS SHE WILL DIE FIRST

Her Husband, a Burnham, Illinois, Judge, Consents to Action, after Wife Refuses Nourishment for Sixteen Days.

Chicago, Ill., June 27.—Mrs. Mary Hunter, of Zion City, a member of the cult, the teachings of which were followed by Mrs. Louise Thompson, who died recently of starvation, is to be fed, in spite of her determination to take no food for sixty days, if the command of Judge C. B. Jones of the Lake county court is carried out.

With the aid of two nurses, a physician made preparations yesterday to compel the woman to take nourishment, after she had been placed under arrest and taken to the Waukegan hospital.

Mrs. Hunter had already fasted for sixteen days, when her husband, Judge E. K. Hunter, of Burnham, Ill., after fruitless attempts to induce her to eat, consented that proceedings be brought against her in order that she might be examined as to her sanity.

Sheriff Griffin, of Lake county, was sent to the house where the woman had been staying and had no difficulty in making the arrest.

The woman, however, defied him to compel her to eat, and said she would rather die than do so, quoting Bible texts which she interpreted as supporting her theory in the efficacy of fasting for the curing of disease.

The sheriff took her to Waukegan and she was questioned by Judge Jones, who ordered her taken to the Jone McAllister hospital and placed in charge of Dr. F. C. Knight, who was instructed to force her to eat. Evidence as to her sanity will be heard today.

Dandified D'Annunzio.

Some of the German papers are deeply interested in the wardrobe of D'Annunzio, the poet. The cut of his clothes, they say, the pattern of his numerous vests and the colors of his cravats are among the vital things in his life. He owns 72 day shirts and 12 dozen silk and lisle socks in his cupboards. His hats are legion and in every variety of style. His evening clothes, dining suits and walking apparel are made by the sartorial artists of Rome and Paris. His underclothing is of the finest spun silk. This department of his habiliments is said to have cost £800. His wardrobe is said to be more extensive and costly than that of any millionaire living.

Notice to Taxpayers.

We believe that every man should pay his just share of taxes, but are sorry to learn that quite a number are not doing so. We found over $200,000 of personal property that was not given to the assessor, and are satisfied that this is only a small part that is escaping taxation.

You have elected us to the important duty of looking after the business interests of this county. This we propose to do, and intend using every means of getting the full and complete list of unassessed property in Pettis county.

If every taxpayer will give in all his personal property we can, and will, reduce the levy, thereby reducing every one's taxes.

Read Sec. 9150, Vol. 2, Revised Statutes of Missouri, 1899: Sec. 9150. Treble Assessment for Making Fraudulent List.—If any person shall, with intent to defraud, deliver to any assessor a false list of his property, it shall be the duty of the assessor to give notice in writing thereof to the said county board of equalization, and the said board shall, on receiving such notice, give notice thereof to the person who shall have furnished such false list, which notice shall specify the particulars in which said list is alleged to be false, and shall fix a time for the hearing of the matter, on which day the person aforesaid shall have the right to appear and defend against such charge; and if it appear that such person is not guilty as charged, the said board shall dismiss such charge; but if it appear that such person is guilty as charged, it shall be the duty of said board of equalization to ascertain the true amount and value of all property of such person subject to taxation, and to tax the same as similar property of other persons is taxed, and, in addition, shall, by way of penalty for furnishing such false list, treble the amount of taxes thus ascertained against such person; and such person shall be required to pay such treble amount, and shall in addition thereto be liable to be punished for perjury. (R. S., 1889, 7537-a.)

Hoping the taxpayers will read this law carefully and be guided by the same, we are, truly,

STONE REFUTES HADLEY

SENIOR SENATOR DISCUSSES ATTORNEY GENERAL'S STATEMENT.

REPUBLICANS PUT IN A BAD LIGHT

Says Wetmore Had No Financial Interest in Tobacco Trust Suit and Crow's Prosecution of Case Was Commendable.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 27.—United States Senator William J. Stone gave out a statement to the press tonight in which he flatly contradicts Attorney General Hadley regarding the latter's statement, published this morning, as to why the suit instituted against the Tobacco Trust by former Attorney General Crow failed.

Attorney General Hadley, in lauding the achievements of his own department, and drawing comparisons with the accomplishments of Attorney General Crow, stated in effect that the reason the State failed to win Trust was commonly supposed to be because Senator Stone and Colonel Moses C. Wetmore, of St. Louis, would not supply the evidence, Colonel Wetmore having meantime sold his interest in the big tobacco plant in St. Louis to the trust. This statement angered Senator Stone.

Here is what he has to say on the subject: "Attorney General Hadley has made a comparison of the work done by and the cost of running his office during his term, with that of Attorney General Crow. It is not my present purpose to review that statement, as I have not had time to examine into the facts. There is only one clause of the statement I wish now to notice.

"Mr. Hadley calls attention to a suit brought by Attorney General Crow to oust the Tobacco Trust from doing business in this State, which suit was decided against the State. He acquits General Crow of blame for the failure of that prosecution, and says, in substance, that it failed because Senator Stone and Colonel Wetmore, who induced him to institute the suit, failed to furnish him with the evidence promised, after Colonel Wetmore sold his tobacco factory to the trust." That is the statement I desire to notice.

"Before a man who cares for the rights of others and for the integrity of his own statements says a thing intended in some way to reflect upon another, he ought to be sure of his facts. There are certain people and a certain class of newspapers in Missouri who would not speak the truth concerning me if they could, if by distorting facts they thought they could do me some personal harm.

"I had not supposed that Mr. Hadley belonged to that class. Nevertheless he has made a statement which is not true in fact. If he did not know the facts, then he ought to have ascertained them before making his statement, and this he could easily have done by inquiry. If the remainder of his statement in point of accuracy is akin to this one, it is entitled to but little credit.

"The evident purpose of his statement is to create the impression that the suit brought against the Tobacco Trust was instigated by Colonel Wetmore and by me, as his attorney, to force the Tobacco Trust to buy the tobacco factory in which Wetmore was interested, and that when that object was accomplished we refused to furnish the State with testimony we had promised to furnish.

"Now the fact is that the tobacco factory referred to, which was the Liggett & Meyers Company, of which Wetmore was the president, had been sold, including Wetmore's interest, long before the matter was ever mentioned to General Crow. This being true, as it is true, it follows that the statement made by Mr. Hadley is not true. Colonel Wetmore had no financial interest whatever involved in any way in the suit.

"Some two years ago in answer to a criticism made of me in connection with this suit by a certain St. Louis newspaper long intensely hostile to me I made a public statement of the facts connected with the proceeding.

"I do not deem it necessary now to go into an extended repetition of that statement. Suffice it to say, first, that General Crow's connection with the suit was commendable in every way and in the highest degree, and that my part in it was altogether honorable, and in accord with professional ethics and propriety."

HER VOICE WAS SOOTHING

Caused Girl to Be Chosen as Mr.
Cleveland's Nurse.

Richmond, Va., June 27.—Grover Cleveland was nursed through his last illness by Miss Blanche Hechler, a Richmond girl, the patient having personally chosen her for this service because of her soft voice and gentle hands.

She became not only his nurse to the exclusion of all others except his wife, but was his confidential secretary as well.

Because of the soothing quality of her voice and touch, so highly appreciated by Mr. Cleveland, the services of Miss Hechler have been in constant demand by patients of great wealth and distinction. She has become known to her friends and professional associates as the millionaire's nurse.

After a year of personal observation and study Miss Hechler told her brother-in-law, David C. Richardson, mayor-elect of Richmond, that Cleveland was one of the truest men that ever lived.

"AN EARTHLY TALK"

How sublime it is to know that when our labors are finished here is today.

While with many brokers business during the past week has been very good, and we are in the dull period of that time, it shows the under-current rapidly increasing, and when the crops are harvested we can without doubt look for a very prosperous season. To the "knocker" with his little hammer, we say, "Adieu," and each with a strong heart and a "good pull," will soon be on the wave's crest, enjoying the comforts of a "Home" in this great little city of God-fearing people.

How beautiful to own your home among those you love, and also among those who love you? Let all good citizens strive to that end, and "contentment" will surely find an abiding place.

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

UNIONS BLAMED FOR DETERIO-RATION OF EFFICIENCY OF EMPLOYEES.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

"We may be sure that the moment public opinion changes and shows a willingness to support officials in enforcing vigorous discipline we shall see higher efficiency and a lower death rate on American railways."

This statement is made in the current issue of Appleton's Magazine by Julius Kruttschnitt, director of maintenance and operation for the Harriman system of roads.

Mr. Kruttschnitt writes upon the subject, "The Public's Responsibility for Railway Accidents," and he says many things which few railroad officials of prominence have had the hardihood to say in public. He declares that at present it is impossible for the railroads to enforce a thorough discipline, and this weakness on their part he attributes to public opinion and to the influence of railway labor unions.

"It cannot be denied," admits Mr.
Kruttschnitt, "that the efficiency of railroad employes has deteriorated in the past few years, and this deterioration cannot be compensated. No matter how generously every material equipment is provided it is useless unless the road is efficiently manned.
It is, therefore, altogether regrettable the attitude of our employes has been changed. That it has been changed from loyalty and consideration to indifference, if not to disloyalty, no observer will deny."

Came Here for Treatment.

J. T. Moore, a Katy machinist from Denison, is at the Sedalia hospital to receive treatment. He was hurt by being thrown from a car and slightly injured while working at the Red river bridge.

He also will receive treatment for an injury to one of his eyes, a reaction from receiving a piece of glass in his eye from a broken lubricator three years ago.

Air Hose Kills Man.

James Heiser, 35 years old, was instantly killed at the Wabash shops in Moberly Friday evening.

He was painting under a car when the air was turned on by another employee. The hose broke, the end striking Heiser on the head.

He came to Moberly a few weeks ago from Bloomington, Ill. He leaves a wife.

A New Depot for Elston.

The Missouri board of railroad commissioners has made an order directing the Missouri Pacific Railway company to build and maintain a passenger station at Elston, twelve miles east of California, Mo.

The board declined to require the Missouri Pacific to stop eastbound passenger train No. 8 at Elston.

Returns to Sedalia.

W. F. Tyler, agent for the Missouri
Pacific at Holden, will arrive here July 1 to accept the position of freight agent for the company, succeeding W. B. Shirk, who will resume his old position of commercial agent.

W. W. Alexander has accepted the position of stenographer in the office of Mr. Shirk.

Will Move to Kansas City.

H. J. Brummerhoff, a Missouri Pacific conductor, running on trains
Nos. 95 and 96, with layover at Kansas City, will next Tuesday move his family from Broadway and Hancock streets, this city, to Kansas City, where they will reside in future.

Still at the Hospital.

Engineer Horchikiss, of the M., K. & T. at Parsons, Kan., who was injured in the collision between the Katy flyer and a freight train at Muskogee, Okla., some time ago, is still confined to the company hospital here, although he is improving.

Speed Limit Is Posted.

An official bulletin, limiting the speed of all Katy trains, including the northbound and southbound flyers, to fifteen miles an hour in the Sedalia yard limits, north and south of Third streets, was posted at the local offices yesterday.

An Attempted Train Robbery.

An attempt was made to hold up an express car of the Illinois Traction system, carrying $48,000 in money and $1,000 worth of jewelry, near Lynch station Thursday night, says a St.
Louis dispatch.
